2013 Russian River Valley Pinot Noir

92 Points – “Quite seductive and elegant, the MacRostie Russian River Valley pinot had me at the first whiff of violets and spice. On the palate the wine delivers ripe aromas of blueberry, raspberry and plum, with a generous bit of heft. The finish is long and satisfying.”

– Robert Whitley, July 2016, Wine Review Online

90 Points: Outstanding – “Smooth and juicy with black cherry and spice; tangy and fresh, balanced and long.”

– Anthony Dias Blue, May-June 2016, The Tasting Panel

90 Points – “Another winner from MacRostie. Aromas and flavors of black cherry, cola, leaf and moderate oak toast are carried on bright acidity and finish long – I’d give this a little bottle age to fully integrate the oak load and let the fruit speak its full argument.”

– Rich Cook, June 2016, Wine Review Online

Steve MacRostie is a legend in Sonoma County – “It’s marvelous to taste the 2013 Russian River Valley Pinot Noir – exploring its distinctive black cherry, blackberry, tobacco and bergamot spice nuances – while learning that the wine features an array of fruit from Thale’s Vineyard, the neighboring Flax Vineyard on Westside Road, and two vineyards in nearby Green Valley.”
